BRITAIN.—Parliamentary proceedings on the 30th were unimportant. The House of Commons Disraeli called attention to the financial affairs of the country and defended the policy of the late government from the attacks which had been made on it. He gave his assent to the motion to make good the deficiency by and income tax, but said he should not support an amendment against the payment of the tax during the first half year. He then referred to the duty of England in the present European crisis and contended that it was only for mere political vanity that England ought not to have a finger in the movement of the continental question. He said that he did not interfere in the war, but that he would not thrust herself into the proposed amendment.

Mr. Disraeli replied to Mr. Disraeli on the question, and deprecated his amendment, stating that if it was

It was calculated to necessitate a move indicated at the close of his address as soon as the state of Europe permitted it, it would be the duty of to test the pacific intentions of France by calling for a diminution of armaments.

WRITING BY SOUND!

PHONOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PITMAN, of Bath, England, in the year 1842.

It is the most simple, most natural, most perfect and most useful system of shorthand ever conceived, and the only one that has ever been, or ever can be invented.

During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of people, in every country, in public and private life, have learned to write by sound, and thousands of social and state letters are actually written through the post.

It is its great popularity to be wondered at, and its great utility to be gratefully remembered.

It is as simple as writing, and as easy as speaking, and totally unworthy these days of progress and invention. Phonography is as simple as spelling, and as learned in one week, as to be written six years at.

In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one day, and the work of one week can be done in one day.

So simple is the system, too, that a man may learn to write in a few days.

An hour's daily practice for a few weeks will enable any person to write Phonography.

person to take reports of speeches, letters, or conversation, and to read them accurately.

J. W. Stone, of Boston, says: "I deprecate photography an invaluable adjunct to shorthand and stenography. It is a great help, but it will not be paid well in manifold for thousands of dollars." The late Hon. T. M. Harlow, of Springfield, Mass., says: "I have been taking photographs for nearly 20 years, and I find that I can make a specialty of it. I have been known 40 years ago took more than 100,000 photographs. I have learned to make a portion of the truth. What, that requires six years to accomplish."

When written, Photography has an extraordinary appearance. Our individuality is the same as the photograph. It may not be without its value; we are required in an hour, in a few days work and study, but the photograph is a very

It is evident that, from this system, of which I give a brief outline more by way of suggestion than description, the greatest benefits accrue to the public at large. I have myself noted numerous instances of its happy results; and if this feature of the French common-law, now widely studied, I am glad to say, by gentlemen of the American bar, resulting abroad their legal attainments, would be adapted to the exigencies of our own country, there can be no question, I think all true lovers of our country and her institutions will admit, that it would be productive of an immense amelioration in our minor judicial and company.

From the Montreal Gazette.
We are glad to learn from a private letter by the Asia, that the House of Lords have passed through the bill to incorporate the British and Canadian Atlantic Telegraph company—on this side of the ocean, the company. We further learn that application was to be immediately made to the Government of Denmark, for permission to carry the wire through the Danish Colonies and the telegraphic stations in them. It was believed that an exclusive permission would be obtained. On the Canadian side the Cable will be taken to the Labrador coast—we suppose at Forteau Bay in the Straits of ingland desire to have this step taken this fall, but it is now—clearly too late in the season. The extension of the telegraphic wire to Forteau Bay we have for years considered an important work—one that ought to be this to have been undertaken. It was proposed to the Canadian Parliament some four or five years ago, by the Hon. John Young. It will place us one day nearer Europe than St. John's.

...er cables than Cape Race places New ork; and it will have this further advantage over Cape Race, that it will be always certain, which Cape Race is not. We believe, however, that the cable across the North Atlantic, with stations in Danish possessions, will be successful, and if it is, it will supersede the Forteau Bay station for news for Europe; but this we ought to have as soon as possible, pending the continuation of the weather.

Angers apprehended to the proposed line of way of the Danish Colonies, are from Copenhagen, and we do not think the risk from them is formidable. We hope to see this Atlantic Telegraph quietly put in good working order, enlightening the people of the eastern hemisphere of the events of the western and vice versa, before the discussion of the practicability of the other scheme is commenced.

FOR TESTING EGGS.

In a book recently published abroad, entitled the 'Curiosities of Food,' is given the following simple method of testing eggs:—There is no difficulty in testing eggs; they are mostly examined by a candle. Another way to tell good eggs is to put them into a bowl of water, and if they are good they will lie on their sides, always; if bad the will stand on their small ends, the large ends always uppermost, unless they have been shaken considerably, when they will stand either end up, never on the side. An egg that lies flat is good to eat, and can be relied upon. An ordinary method is to take them into a room moderately dark and hold them between the eye and the sun.

HARD BUTTER WITHOUT ICE—To have delightfully hard butter in summer, without ice, we plan to recommend by that excellent and useful publication, the Scientific American, a year ago, is a good one. Put a trivet, or even a pot, three or four inches in diameter, over a fire, and ut on this trivet the plate of butter, and fl sauce with water; turn a common flower-upside down over the butter, so that it ge shall be within the saucer and under the water. Plug the hole of the flower-pot with cork, then drench the flower-pot with water set in a cool place until morning, or, if done breakfast, the butter will be very hard by upper time. How many of our city board

ONE OF THE EFFECTS OF MR. SIDNEY SMITH'S POSTAL REGULATIONS.—Nearly every reading room in the country has been closed, in consequence of the newspaper postage imposed by the Government. In the larger towns, where papers of foreign and domestic journals were supplied at a heavy cost, the postage has proved the one straw to break the camel's back, and one by one we find them closing up. In the sections, where Mechanics' Institutes are attached to the generosity of publishers, and furnished reading gratuitously to the community, the new postage law has proved a failure, and one after another these institutions of government heretofore was wont to foster, are coming to exist. It is not an intelligent community ministers wish us to be.—West-York Times.

Wheat now harvested in that State is larger than in any former year. It estimates the amount at 14,000,000 bushels, and allows 4,000,000 for consumption, there will be 10,000,000 bushels for export. The Wisconsin does not anticipate high prices, but claims for the excellent quality of the wheat will create a demand for it among millers. It urges wheat raisers to clean their wheat carefully, and advises them to send their crops abroad before December.

"An Englishman, in one of our towns, boasting of his country, and among the rest he said:—"There are springs in our country where the most sparkling soda water be had already prepared." "Why, that is nothing to a lake out west," said one of his hearers, with a perfectly serious countenance, "here there is the most delicious champagne, already bottled, and the banks are all of sponge cake."
